ENG

San Defendente, a small hamlet found in the hills surrounding Canale in the Piedmont region, has always been "home" to the Deltetto family. Our Reserve wine emerges from this historic vineyard which is today part of the Roero DOCG wine region. An altitude of over 300 metres, combined with an excellent exposure, allows us to harvest grapes when they are perfectly ripe. This produces a complex wine which still has the noteworthy acidity essential for extensive ageing.

GRAPE VARIETY: Arneis

VINIFICATION: fermentation at 16°C in second passage French oak barriques

MATURATION: aging in second passage French oak barriques with weekly bâtonnage for about 6 months and subsequent ageing in the bottle for at least one year

ORGANOLEPTIC CHARACTERISTICS: an intense straw yellow colour with a fine, intriguing and heterogeneous nose; flowers and ripe fruits accompany hydrocarbon notes In the mouth its freshness and flavour is contrasted by softness and structure

WE LIKE IT WITH: Seasoned Castelmagno d'Alpeggio DOP

SERVING TEMPERATURE: 9°C - 48° F
